Barun Biswas Academy (BBA) is an endeavour of Barun Biswas Memorial Committee (BBMC), which was formed in 2012 by followers of the great Barun Biswas.

A year back BBA undertook a project for the underprivileged of the College Street locality. We at BBA used to teach students of class V to VIII English digitally through Abheda English in collaboration with Abheda Foundation.

A major Bengali daily Anandabazar Patrika reports Jaya Sardar's achievements.

In this news item Jaya rescues a girl Anjali from her undue burden of supporting an abjectly poor family.

At a tender age of 10 Anjali began working in a brickfield, and had been carrying bricks since then apart from cooking duties.

This cost her education, the report says. Jaya requested the principal of her own school to admit Anjali to the school free of cost.

And on some plea the principal allowed Anjali's admission.

The project has found new wings this year as BBA musters strong by adding 20 students.

As new resources - digital and manpower - are being supplemented, we are in need of English teachers, who can provide free services for 1/2/3 days at BBA. Request teachers to volunteer for 2 hours.

The willing teacher(s) will be made conversant with our method of teaching by training.
